OBJECTIVE:
Students will analyze primary sources to determine who was president of the United States during the time of the described event. Students will identify clues in the primary sources that will help them identify the person or time frame described by the source.

TOPIC:
Leaders of the United States

SECONDARY SOCIAL STUDIES TEKS:

Social Studies TEKS reflect the NEW Streamlined TEKS that will be implemented in elementary schools in the 2020-2021 school year.

“I do not mistrust the future; I do not fear what is ahead. For our problems are large, but our heart is larger.”
- President George H.W. Bush
TOPIC:
Leaders of the United States

CONNECTION TO PRESIDENT GEORGE H.W. BUSH:
Primary sources from the presidency of George H.W. Bush will be utilized for the students to compare and contrast the domestic and foreign policies of George H.W. Bush to those of other wartime presidents.

CONSTITUTION CONNECTION:
Article II of the Constitution expressly designates the president as “Commander in Chief” of the U.S. Armed Forces. As commander-in-chief, the president exercises supreme operational command over the military, which includes the power to launch, direct and supervise military operations, order or authorize the deployment of troops (in foreign countries), and form military policy with the Department of Defense and Homeland Security.

OBJECTIVE:
Students will analyze primary source documents and images from the presidencies of George H.W. Bush and other wartime presidents.

PROGRAM MATERIALS:
PILLARS TO LIVE BY PASSPORT RESOURCE (page S3): 1 set per student or student group
PILLAR SORT CARDS (page S4): 1 set per student or student group
PRIMARY SOURCE MATERIALS IMAGES: (page S5-S10): 1 per student or student group
SECURITY BRIEFING (page S11): 1 set per student or student group
SECURITY BRIEFING LETTER (page S12): 1 per student or student group
TEACHER KEY FOR PRIMARY SOURCE MATERIALS: (page S13-S24): 1 per student or student group
PRIMARY SOURCE ANALYSIS SHEET: (page S25-S27): 1 per student or student group
PRESIDENTIAL REVIEW (page S28-S33): 1 per student or student group
PILLAR CLOSURE SHEET (page S34): 1 per student or student group
THE BOTTOM LINE (page S35): 1 per student or student group
THE BOTTOM LINE ANSWER KEY (page S36): Teacher Use

PROGRAM INSTRUCTIONS:
1. Teachers will use the passport for learning slide to guide class discussion of the Pillars to Live By.
2. Give each student or student group a set of primary sources. The students must use the analysis handouts to determine which President the primary source best belongs.
   • PART ONE: Use the analysis handout to determine which President the primary source IMAGE best belongs.
   • PART TWO: Use the analysis handout to determine which President the primary source QUOTE best belongs.
   • PART THREE: Use the analysis handout to determine which President the primary source LETTERS/SPEECHES best belongs.
3. Teachers may require students to justify their answer with a specific amount of evidence from the primary source.
4. Use Pillar Sort cards, have students sort Images and Quotes under the category where students feel they fit best.

STUDENT SKILLS ASSESSMENT:
• Have students (or student groups) complete THE BOTTOM LINE worksheet at the end of the activity.
• Students will complete their PILLAR TO LIVE BY closure sheet.
BONUS: Ask students to select an activity they could do and write it under the Pillar where it best fits.
INSTRUCTIONS:
Read through George H.W. Bush’s Pillars to Live By.

With your shoulder partner discuss which pillar you think is the most important for President of the United States to have:
• Lifetime of Service
• Putting People First in Decision Making
• Building Relationships to Better the World

INSTRUCTIONS:
At the end of our program you will be asked to make a connection from your learning to one or all of George H.W. Bush’s Pillars to Live By.

Your letter of the 2d 7ber is just come to Hand. Mine of Yesterday Mentionned that the ships in York River Had gone down. Inclosed is the Account I Receive of an engagement off the Capes. What disposition has been made for the internal protection of the Bay I do not know. James River is still guarded but We Have not as Yet Receivd any letter from Count De Grass relative to His last movements. I Hasten to communicate them as your Excellency will probably think it is safer to keep the troops at the Head of Elk untill Comte de Grasse returns. indeed Unless the greatest part of your force is brought here a small addition can do little more than we do effect. Lord Cornwallis will in a little time render himself very respectable. I ardently wish your whole army may be soon Brought down to operate. By a deserter from York I hear that two British frigats followed the French fleet and Returned after they had seen them out of the Capes. A spy says that two schooners supposed to be French Have Been Seen Coming up York River. But we have nothing so certain as to insure your Voyage—tho’ it is probable Comte de Grasse will soon Return. I beg leave to Request, My dear General, in your answer to Marquis de St Simon you will express your Admiration at the celerity of their landing and your sense of their cheerfulness in submitting to the difficulties of the first moments. Indeed I would be Happy something might also be said to Congress on the subject. With the Highest Respect I have the honor to be My dear General Your most obedient Servant.

Dear Mother and Dad,
This will be the first letter you have gotten from me in a good long while. I wish I could tell you that as I write this I am feeling well and happy. Physically I am O.K., but I am troubled inside and with good cause. Here is the whole story or at least as much of it as I am allowed to relate right not.

Yesterday was a day which will long stand in my memory. I was on a bombing hop with Delaney as my radioman and Lt. Ted White as my gunner. I will have to skip all the details of the attack as they would not pass the censorship, but the fact remains that we got hit. The cockpit filled with smoke and I told the boys in back to get their parachutes on. They didn’t answer at all, but I looked around and couldn’t see Ted in the turret so I assumed he had gone below to get his chute fastened on. I headed the plane out to sea and put on the throttle so we could get away from land as much as possible. I am not too clear about the next parts. I told them to bail out and then I called the skipper and told him I was bailing out. As I left the plane my head struck the tail. I now have a cut head and bruised eye but it is far from serious. Just as I got floating down, I saw the plane strike the water. There was no sign of Del or Ted anywhere around. I looked as I floated down and afterwards kept my eye open from the raft, but to no avail. The fact that our planes didn’t seem to be searching anymore showed me pretty clearly that they had not gotten out. I’m afraid I was pretty much a sissy about it cause I sat in my raft and sobbed for awhile. It bothers me so very much. Please excuse all of my misspellings- they are caused not from ignorance but from carelessness in operating this machine. Much much love to you all, your ever devoted and loving son,

Gettysburg Address

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced.

It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom.

June 19, 1812:
Proclamation of a State of War with Great Britain

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

Whereas the Congress of the United States, by virtue of the constituted authority vested in them, have declared by their act bearing date the 18th day of the present month that war exists between the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland and the dependencies thereof and the United States of America and their Territories:

Now, therefore, I, the President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim the same to all whom it may concern; and I do specially enjoin on all persons holding offices, civil or military, under the authority of the United States that they be vigilant and zealous in discharging the duties respectively incident thereto; and I do moreover exhort all the good people of the United States, as they love their country, as they value the precious heritage derived from the virtue and valor of their fathers, as they feel the wrongs which have forced on them the last resort of injured nations, and as they consult the best means under the blessing of Divine Providence of abridging its calamities, that they exert themselves in preserving order, in promoting concord, in maintaining the authority and efficacy of the laws, and in supporting and invigorating all the measures which may be adopted by the constituted authorities for obtaining a speedy, a just, and an honorable peace.

In testimony whereof I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed to these presents. Done at the city of Washington, the 19th day of June, 1812, and of the Independence of the United States the thirty-sixth.

Speech Asking the Senate to Ratify the North Atlantic Treaty - Harry S. Truman | April 12, 1949

This treaty is an expression of the desire of the people of the United States for peace and security, for the continuing opportunity to live and work in freedom.

Events in this century have taught us that we cannot achieve peace independently. The world has grown too small. The oceans to our east and west no longer protect us from the reach of brutality and aggression.

We have also learned, learned in blood and conflict, that if we are to achieve peace we must work for peace.

This knowledge has made us determined to do everything we can to insure that peace is maintained. We have not arrived at this decision lightly or without recognition of the effort it entails. But we cannot escape the great responsibility that goes with our stature in the world. Every action of this nation in recent years has demonstrated the overwhelming will of our people that the strength and influence of the United States shall be used in the cause of peace, justice, and freedom.

In this determination, our people wholeheartedly accepted the Charter of the United Nations in 1945. Since then, we have worked unceasingly to reach international agreement through the United Nations and to make the United Nations a more effective instrument for its mighty task.

The twelve nations which have signed this treaty undertake to exercise their right of collective or individual self-defense against armed attack, in accordance with Article 51 of the United Nations Charter, and subject to such measures as the Security Council may take to maintain and re-store international peace and security. The treaty makes clear the determination of the people of the United States and of our neighbors in the North Atlantic community to do their utmost to maintain peace with justice and to take such action as they may deem necessary if the peace is broken.

MEMORANDUM FOR MY FELLOW AMERICANS

Subject: The success of the United States is dependent upon you, the people.

My fellow Americans, we need your help. The George H.W. Bush Presidential Library and Museum is creating a new exhibit highlighting the military service of presidents of the United States. They received quotes, letters, and visuals from all over the nation. Unfortunately, my dog Sully ran through the office and mixed up all of the primary sources from these great American presidents.

I need your help! Investigate these primary sources to determine which President they best belong. Now remember, a great investigator justifies their answer with facts from the source. Make sure to pay close attention to any clues the primary source might give you.

I have provided a quick review for you to look over before you begin your investigation. Thank you for your service to our country.

Good luck, the future of our nation is in your hands.

Sincerely,

The Persian Gulf War

This one landed in President George H.W. Bush’s lap in 1990 when Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait in August. He rejected the advice from the United Nations Security Council when it instructed him to withdraw his forces. Saudi Arabia and Egypt requested the assistance of the U.S. to help prevent Iraq’s invasion of neighboring territories. America, along with several allies, complied. Operation Desert Storm raged for 42 days until President Bush declared a ceasefire in February 1991.

BLACK HAWK WAR
Abraham Lincoln
(Capt., Illinois Militia)

THE CIVIL WAR
The “War Between the States” lasted from 1861 until 1865. Abraham Lincoln was president. Lincoln’s opposition to slavery was well known and seven southern states promptly seceded from the union when he was elected, leaving him with a real mess on his hands. Those states formed the Confederate States of America and the Civil War broke out as Lincoln took steps to bring them back into the fold – and to emancipate their slaves in the process. Four more states seceded before the dust from the first Civil War battle had settled.
The Revolutionary War, also called the American War for Independence, was fought from 1775 through 1783. George Washington was Commander of the Colonial Army. Spurred on by the Boston Tea Party in 1773, 13 North American colonies fought Great Britain in an effort to escape from British rule and to become a country unto themselves. George Washington then became the first President of the United States.

REVOLUTIONARY WAR
James Madison
(Col., Orange County Militia)

THE WAR OF 1812
James Madison came to the presidency know as the “Father of the United States Constitution”. James Madison was President when the U.S. next challenged Great Britain in 1812. The British did not gracially accept American independence after the Revolutionary War. Britain began seizing American sailors and doing its best to interrupt American trade. The War of 1812 has been called the “Second War of Independence.” It lasted until 1815.

World War I
Harry S. Truman
(Maj. Gen., Missouri Army National Guard)

Presidents During WW2
Raging from 1939 until 1945, World War II monopolized the time and attention of two presidents: Franklin Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. The war began when Hitler invaded Poland and France. Great Britain declared war on Germany two days later. Soon, more than 30 countries were involved, with Japan (among several other countries) joining forces with Germany. Japan surrendered in 1945 after atomic bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. WWII became the most devastating war in the history claiming between 50 and 100 million lives. After WWII, the United States under President Truman helped rebuild Europe through the use of the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine.

Speech Asking the Senate to Ratify the North Atlantic Treaty - Harry S. Truman | April 12, 1949

This treaty is an expression of the determination of the people of the United States and of our neighbors in the North Atlantic community to do their utmost to maintain peace with justice and to take such action as they may deem necessary if the peace is broken.

The people of the North Atlantic community have seen solemn agreement, designed to assure peace and the rights of small nations, broken one by one and the people of those nations deprived of freedom by terror and oppression. They are resolved that their nations shall not, one by one, suffer the same fate.

The nations signing this treaty share a common heritage of democracy, individual liberty and the rule of law. The American members of the North Atlantic community stem directly from the European members in tradition and in love of freedom. We have joined together in the progressive development of free institutions, and we have shared our moral and material strength in the present task of rebuilding from the devastation of war.

I believe that the North Atlantic treaty is such a step, based on the realities of the situation we face today and framed within the terms of the United Nations charter and Constitution of the United States.

In the conviction that the North Atlantic treaty is a great advance toward fulfillment of the unconquerable will of the people of the United States to achieve a just and enduring peace, I request the advice and consent of the Senate to its ratification.

LETTERS/SPEECHES

“...You are about to embark upon the Great Crusade, toward which we have striven these many months. The eyes of the world are upon you. The hopes and prayers of liberty-loving people everywhere march with you. In company with our brave Allies and brothers-in-arms on other Fronts, you will bring about the destruction of the German war machine, the elimination of Nazi tyranny over the oppressed peoples of Europe, and security for ourselves in a free world.”

1944

“We have erased segregation in those areas of national life to which Federal authority clearly extends. So doing in this, my friends, we have neither sought nor claimed partisan credit, and all such actions are nothing more -- nothing less than the rendering of justice. And we have always been aware of this great truth: the final battle against intolerance is to be fought -- not in the chambers of any legislature -- but in the hearts of men.”

1957

“The United States strongly seeks a lasting agreement for the discontinuance of nuclear weapons tests. We believe that this would be an important step toward reduction of international tensions and would open the way to further agreement on substantial measures of disarmament.”

IMMEDIATE RELEASE
September 5, 1957

James C. Hagerty, Press Secretary to the President

THE WHITE HOUSE
U.S. Naval Base
Newport, Rhode Island

THE PRESIDENT TODAY SENT THE FOLLOWING TELEGRAM TO THE HONORABLE ORVAL F. FAUBUS, THE GOVERNOR OF ARKANSAS:

The Honorable Orval F. Faubus
Governor of Arkansas
Little Rock, Arkansas

Your telegram received requesting my assurance of understanding of and cooperation in the course of action you have taken on school integration recommended by the Little Rock School Board and ordered by the United States District Court pursuant to the mandate of the United States Supreme Court.

When I became President, I took an oath to support and defend the Constitution of the United States. The only assurance I can give you is that the Federal Constitution will be upheld by me by every legal means at my command.

There is no basis of fact to the statements you make in your telegram that Federal authorities have been considering taking you into custody or that telephone lines to your Executive Mansion have been tapped by any agency of the Federal Government.

At the request of Judge Davies, the Department of Justice is presently collecting facts as to interference with or failure to comply with the District Court’s order. You and other state officials -- as well as the National Guard, which, of course, is uniformed, armed and partially sustained by the Government -- will, I am sure, give full cooperation to the United States District Court.

S24 WHO DONE IT? A PRESIDENTIAL INVESTIGATION
September 3rd, 1944

Dear Mother and Dad,

This will be the first letter you have gotten from me in a good long while. I wish I could tell you that as I write this I am feeling well and happy. Physically I am O.K., but I am troubled inside and with good cause. Here is the whole story or at least as much of it as I am allowed to write right now.

Yesterday was a day which will long stand in my memory. I was on a bombing hop with Delaney as my radioman and Lt. Ted White as my gunner. I will have to skip all the details of the attack as they would not pass the censorship, but the fact remains that we got hit. The cockpit filled with smoke and I told the boys in back to get their parachutes on. They didn’t answer at all, but I looked around and couldn’t see Ted in the turret so I assumed he had gone below to get his chute fastened on. I headed the plane out to sea and put on the throttle so we could get away from land as much as possible. I am not too clear about the next parts. I told them to bail out and then I called the skipper and told him I was bailing out. As I left the plane my head struck the tail. I now have a cut head and bruised eye but it is far from serious. Just as I got floating down, I saw the plane strike the water. There was no sign of Del or Ted anywhere around. I looked as I floated down and afterwards kept my eye open from the raft, but to no avail.

The fact that our planes didn’t seem to be searching anymore showed me pretty clearly that they had not gotten out. I am afraid I was pretty much a sissy about it cause I sat in my raft and sobbed for while. It bothers me so very much. Please excuse all of my misspellings – they are caused not from ignorance but from carelessness in operating this machine. Please much love to you all, your ever devoted and loving son,

P.S.

My dear General

Your letter of the 2d of July is just come to hand. More of Yesterdays Mentioned that the ships in York River had gone down. Followed is the Account I receive of an engagement off the Capes.

What disposition has been made for the internal protection of the Bay I do not know. James River is in York River Had gone down. Inclosed is the Account I Receive of an engagement off the Capes.

By the President

This treaty is an expression of the desire of the people of the United States for peace and security for the continuing opportunity to live and work in freedom. Events in this century have taught us that we cannot achieve peace independent. The world has grown too small. The access to our east and west no longer protects us from the reach of brutality and aggression. We have also learned learned is blood and conflict that if we want peace must work for peace. This knowledge has made us determined to do everything we can to secure that peace is maintained. We have not arrived at this decision lightly or without recognition of the effort it entails. But we cannot escape the great responsibility that goes with freedom. And with the responsibility must come the power of the world. Every action of this nation in recent years has brought us nearer the day when we must enforce the power which we must have in order to maintain peace.

The nations which have signed this treaty undertake to exercise their right of collective or individual self-defense against armed attack. In accordance with Article 51 of the United Nations Charter, and subject to such measures as the Security Council may take to maintain and restore international peace and security, the treaty makes clear the determination of the people of the United States and our neighbors of the Western Hemisphere to protect their national existence and independence, their national security, their national rights, and their national dignity. It binds the signatories to use every means, including armed force, if it is necessary, to maintain peace with justice and to take such action as the Security Council may deem necessary if the peace is broken.

The people of the North Atlantic countries have signed this agreement, designed to ensure peace and the rights of small nations, broken one by one and the people of those nations deprived of freedom by terror and oppression. They are resolved that their nations shall not, one by one, suffer the same fate.

The nations signing this treaty share a common heritage of democracy, individual liberty and the rule of law. The American members of the North Atlantic community stem directly from the European members in tradition and in love of freedom. We have joined together in the progressive development of free institutions, and we have shared our moral and material strength in the present task.

I believe that the North Atlantic treaty is such a step, based on the realities of the situation we face today and framed within the terms of the United Nations Charter and Constitution of the United States. In the conviction that the North Atlantic treaty is a great advance toward fulfillment of the unapproachable will of the people of the United States to achieve a just and enduring peace, I request the advice and consent of the Senate to its ratification.

The President

My dear General

Your letter of the 2d of July is just come to hand. More of Yesterdays Mentioned that the ships in York River Had gone down. Followed is the Account I receive of an engagement off the Capes. What disposition has been made for the internal protection of the Bay I do not know. James River is still guarded but We have not as yet Received any letter from Count De Grasse relative to His last movements. I Hatten to communicate them as Your Excellency will probably think it is safer to keep the troops at the Head of Elk untill Comte de Grasse returns. Indeed Unless the greatest part of your movements. I Hasten to communicate them as your Excellency will probably think it is safer to keep by a deserter from York I hear that two British frigats followed the French fleet and Returned aft er they had seen them out of the Capes. A spy says that two schooners supposed to be French Have Been seen Coming up York River. But we have nothing so certain as to insure your voyage this is probably the last fool of you by any agency of the Federal Government.

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure.

We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we can not dedicate -- we can not consecrate -- we can not hallow this ground.

The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us -- that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain -- that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom.

THE PERSIAN GULF WAR

This one landed in President George H.W. Bush’s lap in 1990 when Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait in August. He rejected the advice from the United Nations Security Council when it instructed him to withdraw his forces. Saudi Arabia and Egypt requested the assistance of the U.S. to help prevent Iraq’s invasion of neighboring territories. America, along with several allies, complied. Operation Desert Storm raged for 42 days until President Bush declared a ceasefire in February 1991.

UNITED STATES PRESIDENT 1789-1797

THE AMERICAN REVOLUTION

The Revolutionary War, also called the American War for Independence, was fought from 1775 through 1783. George Washington was Commander of the Colonial Army. Spurred on by the Boston Tea Party in 1773, 13 North American colonies fought Great Britain in an effort to escape from British rule and to become a country unto themselves. George Washington then became the first President of the United States.

UNITED STATES PRESIDENT 1809-1817

THE WAR OF 1812

James Madison came to the presidency know as the “Father of the United States Constitution”. James Madison was president when the U.S. next challenged Great Britain in 1812. The British did not graciously accept American independence after the Revolutionary War. Britain began seizing American sailors and doing its best to interrupt American trade. The War of 1812 has been called the “Second War of Independence.” It lasted until 1815.
The “War Between the States” lasted from 1861 until 1865. Abraham Lincoln was president. Lincoln’s opposition to slavery was well known and seven southern states promptly seceded from the union when he was elected, leaving him with a real mess on his hands. They formed the Confederate States of America and the Civil War broke out as Lincoln took steps to bring them back into the fold — and to emancipate their slaves in the process. Four more states seceded before the dust from the first Civil War battle had settled.
Raging from 1939 until 1945, World War II monopolized the time and attention of two presidents: Franklin Roosevelt and Harry S. Truman. The war began when Hitler invaded Poland and France. Great Britain declared war on Germany two days later. Soon, more than 30 countries were involved, with Japan (among several other countries) joining forces with Germany. Japan surrendered in 1945 after atomic bombs were dropped on Hiroshima and Nagasaki. WWII became the most devastating war in the history claiming between 50 and 100 million lives. After WWII, the United States under President Truman helped rebuild Europe through the use of the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine.
